

1952 PIONEER

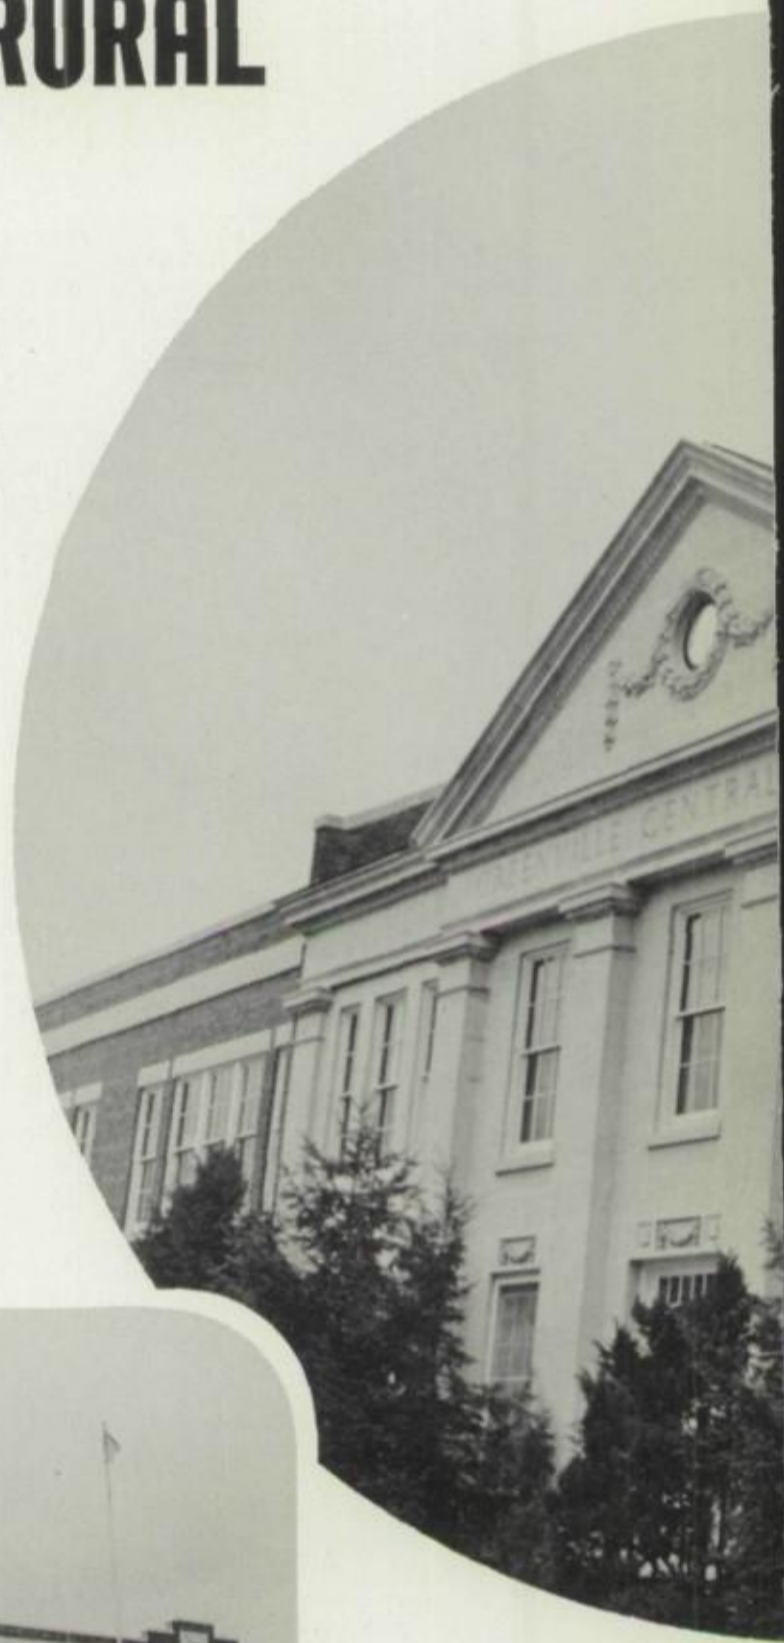

Presented By The

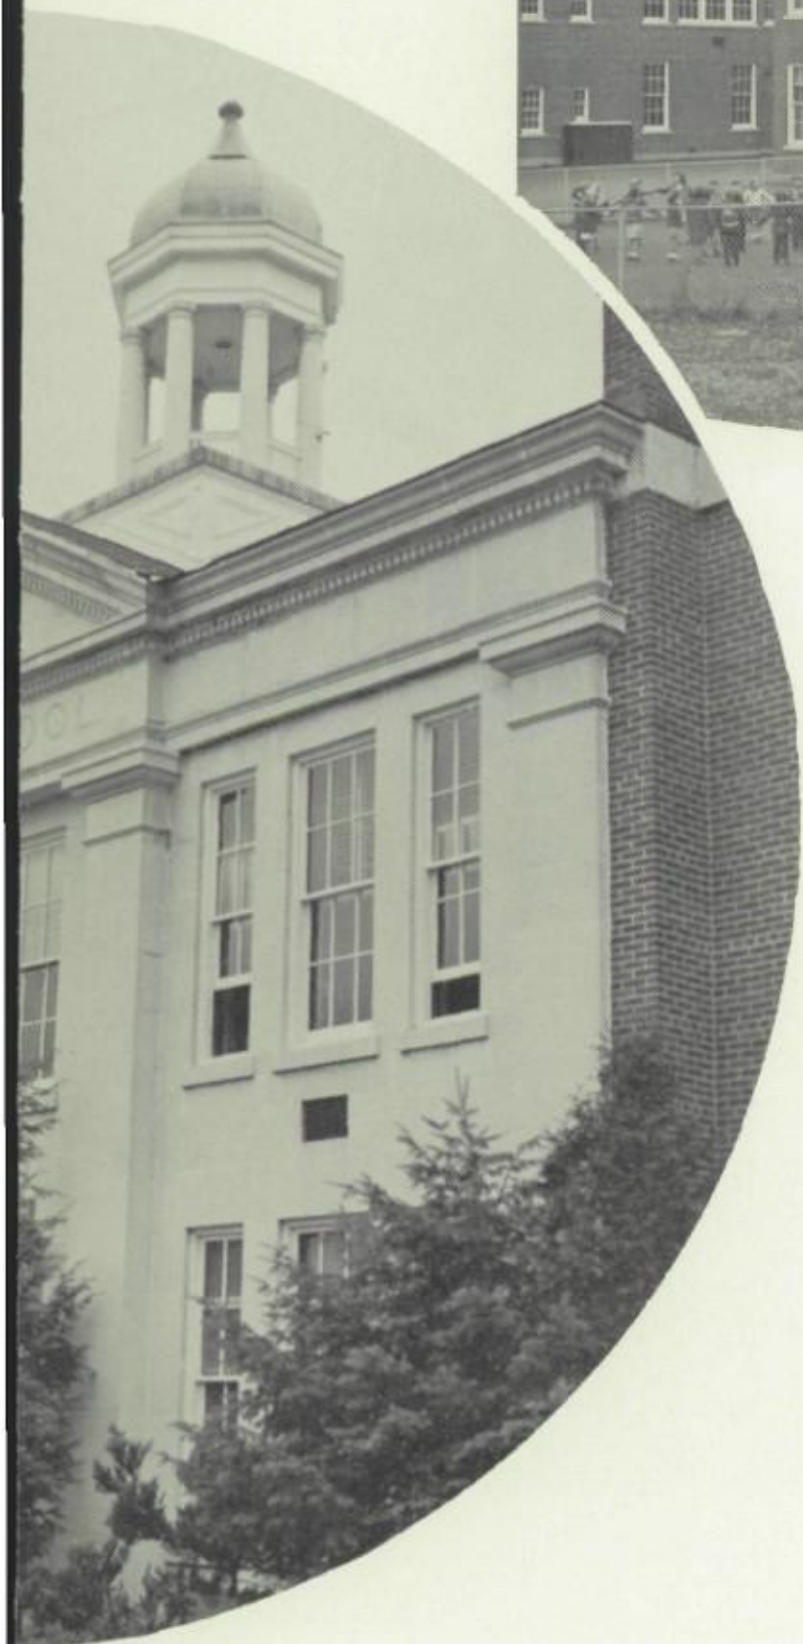

SENIOR CLASS OF

GREENVILLE CENTRAL RURAL

SCHOOL

GREENVILLE, NEW YORK

FOREWORD

We, the Class of 1952, present this issue of the Pioneer with the hope that in the years to come it will recall, not only for us but also for our parents and friends, happy memories of the hours spent at our Alma Mater. Although we are looking ahead to the future with our modern theme, we recognize and appreciate the value and teachings of the past and present.

ALMA MATER

In among the pleasant valleys,
We see our school so dear.
It will stand for truth and wisdom
Throughout the coming years,
Through the four long years of high school,
Midst the scenes we know so well,
And our love for Alma Mater
In our hearts will ever dwell.

We will think of Alma Mater
In every act and deed.
While we work for dear old Greenville,
No honors will she need.
Our colors stand before us,
They signify our might
And recall the days of gladness
'Neath the old Maroon and White.

CLASS HISTORY

We, being the modern, futuristic-minded class that we are, decided that we would make the development of atomic energy for civilian use our project throughout the four years of high school.

Now, as we fondly look back upon the many trials and errors we made in the past four years, upon all the disappointments, and the very slow progress — but let's go back to the beginning.

When we were Freshmen, under Miss Wooster's expert guidance, we went through the process of getting ourselves started and laying the groundwork for our future progress. We chose Margaret Stevens as manager, Rudolph Bredderman as assistant manager, Mary Anne Roulet as record keeper and Helen O'Brien as the funds handler. Of course, we didn't have any funds as yet; so, we went to town on the magazine drive. We won, but alas and alack, even then we didn't have sufficient funds to really get going on our project.

When we returned to school as Sophomores, we were more determined than ever to carry out our project. We again beat the rest of the school in the magazine drive. Now we really got down to work and after endless experiments, we finally developed our project enough to put on the "Dungaree Drag" in June. It was a whopping success — what's more, it gave us more funds with which to work. Of course, our success was also due to the able management of Irene Olson with Eddie Hale's assistance. Laura Stronczek kept our records and Helen O'Brien, our funds.

Now that we had gotten a good start as Sophomores, we arrived at the next stepping stone toward success when we were Juniors. Probably you've already guessed, and you're right — we won the magazine drive again! This year we had developed enough atomic energy to enable us to put on the "Winter Wonderland" dance before mid-terms. Soon after we had recorded the successful completion of this stage of our atomic development, Laura Stronczek, our manager, with Rudy Bredderman's assistance, buckled us down to work again. The "busy beavers" had nothing on us which was proven by the fact that by May we had perfected our project to such a degree that we successfully staged the "Moon Over Miami" Prom. It was a real pleasure for Eddie Hale, our funds-keeper, to chalk up some assets instead of liabilities for such an event. That year's record, kept for us by Nanci Puleo, is a real joy to read.

Last fall, when we returned to Greenville as Seniors, we received our Senior rings. They served as a stimulus and we buckled down to work as never before. We developed enough atomic energy to run the cafeteria for home basketball games. Finding ourselves with atomic energy to spare, we decided to put on "The Importance of Being Earnest," a comedy by Oscar Wilde. Our funds handler, Nanci Puleo, had a job counting the proceeds and Helen Campbell, our record-keeper, recorded another success.

Our manager, Rudy Bredderman, and our assistant manager, Paul Colvin, helped us to decide in favor of Washington, D.C. for our Senior trip. You can imagine the stupendous time we had in Washington with all the atomic energy we had developed by spring. If it hadn't been for the able guidance of our chaperons, I'm afraid Washington might have been demolished.

Well, now the end is here — we have completed our atomic energy project and we are successful graduates of Greenville Central. In reading this, it may seem that we are overly proud; we are proud, partly for our own achievements, but mostly because we have had the good fortune of attending G.C.S.

The Pioneer Staff wish to express their sincere thanks to all those who contributed their time, effort and skill in helping to present this issue of the Pioneer. Our special thanks go to Edith Bergman, Joan Haskin, Dorothy Kollar, Helen O'Brien, Hazel Olson and Mary Anne Roulet for their assistance given so willingly for this publication.

CLASS PROPHECY

Time: The Year 1970

KENNETH BALDWIN has received the "Congressional Chicken Award" for the best judging of three-legged chickens.

EDITH BERGMAN is art editor for the Times. Her latest cartoon featured Lewis in a fight with Petrillo over who controlled the most men in 1969.

SALLY BOGARDUS' newest television show "Kukla, Fran, and Sally" is a tremendous success.

RUDOLPH BREDDERMAN, voted "The Arguer of 1970" is head of Cornell's Agriculture Department. He maintains there are two ways to look at an animal — from the front or the back.

HELEN CAMPBELL is employed by Ringling Brothers as lion tamer. She has the lions eating her hand — no, eating out of her hand.

PAUL COLVIN, "Mr. Goodlooking of 1970", has a patent on a bleach for people troubled with ugly brown hair.

CHARLES DUDLEY completes his eighteenth year with the Brooklyn Dodgers. He's called the biggest "Dud" the Dodgers ever had.

HANS ERDMANN is now president of the one and only "Interplanetary Airlines".

KENNETH FISCHER, president of the "Hold Me Tight" Dental Plate Company, reports sales are well over the million mark.

EDWARD HALE, the nation's eminent physicist, has a new discovery, nitronium monoperchlorate mandelonitrile glucoside diphenylaminechlorasine, which writes like ink.

JOAN HASKIN, head of the Washington Congressional Library, has been campaigning for a pocketbook edition of "Muzzey".

HERBERT HENTSCHEL completed his book entitled, "Mr. Ketcham and I". Their cows are enjoying it immensely because it contains vitamin PGX.

LAWRENCE HESEL has taken Einstein's place and has developed new theories on galvanotropism.

ELLSWORTH HOOD, when last seen, was in Alaska trying to sell the Eskimos igloos made of dry ice.

WINIFRED KENT, owner of Blue Grass Stables saw her "hoss", Greenville Central, win the Kentucky Derby.

CHARLES KILEY is president of Kiley's Mortuary. His slogan is, "We undertake to take you under".

DOROTHY KOLLAR is private confidential secretary for Mrs. Roosevelt because she types faster than Mrs. Roosevelt can talk.

GOTTFRIED LEICHT has been appointed to the UN where even Jacob Malik is tired of arguing with him.

ADRIENNE MACKAY is Secretary to the Secretary of the Inferior. Her boss is swell although shy.

ROBERT MATHES, confirmed bachelor, wrote the best seller, "How to Steer Clear of Women in 73 Easy Lessons".

HELEN O'BRIEN has redecorated Grant's $10 and Up Store in black and orange.

HAZEL OLSON won the Academy Award for her performance in "All About Hazel." She made her debut as Gwendoline in 1951.

IRENE OLSON is tired of hearing about the Globetrotters. She's formed her own basketball team called the "Maprunners."

NANCI PULEO, history teacher of G.C.S., demands adequate and accurate answers. Her favorite expression is "fiddle-faddle."

GORDON RENNICK, owner of the largest theater in Greenville, manufactures a double-pop machine producing gigantic popcorn.

JOSEPH ROBERTO of Mr. America fame has the nation's best developed flexor digitorum profundus.

WALTER ROTZOL, new owner of a 1970 Ford, now declares that "A Ford will beat a Chevvie any time."

MARY ANNE ROULET, star reporter for the Times Onion, received the Pall Mall $500 award for her big story, "Crime and Punishment in G.C.S."

HENRY SCHNARE solved the parking problem by inventing a car that folds up and fits in his pocket.

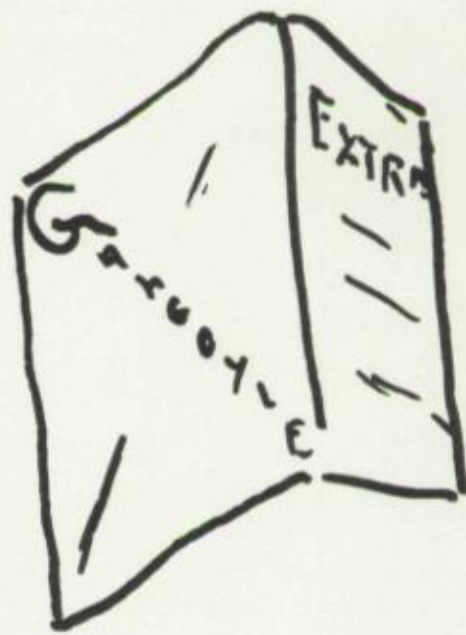

RICHARD SCUDERI is a tremendous success as a modern artist. Anyone wishing to correspond with him should send food to R. Scuderi, Greenwich Village.

MARGARET STEVENS is head buyer for Main Street Shoppe, the nation's leading department store.

LAURA STRONCZEK is employed by the Carl Smith Pencil Company producing little "stubs".

CHARLOTTE TEATOR is designing a new typewriter which doesn't need fingers for its operation.
